The exact Samsonite products will be determined by Samsonite and may be subject to availability.

Article 6. Travel conditions

VPG may not be held liable for the performance of the Partner's services in the context of the use of the Prize by the Winner. In this respect, any claim or damage resulting from the activity will be handled and borne by the Partner.

It is specified that the Competition is offered free of charge, and is not a sales, distribution, agency or representation contract and, in this context, the attribution of the Prize by VPG to the Winner is not governed by its General Terms and Conditions of Sale or, more generally, by the provisions of the Package Travel Directive.

As such, VPG cannot be held liable for the performance of the Partner's services in the context of the consumption of the Prize by the Winner. In this respect, any claim or damage resulting from the consumption of the Prize by the Winner will be borne and dealt with by the Partner.

Article 7. Personal data

VPG, in its quality as data controller, collects and processes the Participant's personal data solely within the framework and for the purposes of participation in the Contest. VPG will keep the Participants' personal data for a period of six (6) months, after which it will be automatically deleted.

In this respect, and in accordance with the General Data Protection Regulation n°2016/679, the Winner may at any time exercise his/her right of access, opposition, rectification and deletion of his/her personal data by consulting the Privacy Policy.

Article 8. Intellectual property rights

It is expressly agreed that all the elements that make up the elements of the Competition and in particular the brands, logos, graphics, drawings, photographs, animations and texts, the descriptions of the Competition, and any other element, whether visual and/or sound (hereinafter referred to as the "Content"), to which the Participant may have access in the course of the Competition, are protected by the applicable legislation relating to intellectual property. VPG holds all rights relating to this Competition.

As such, and in accordance with applicable legislation, only the use of the Content for strictly private use and as provided for in these terms and conditions is authorised, and any other use constitutes an infringement and will be sanctioned, unless prior written authorisation has been obtained from VPG.

Article 9. Liability and force majeure

By participating in the Competition, the Participant acknowledges and accepts the characteristics and limitations of the Internet, particularly with regard to technical performance, response times for consulting, querying or transferring information, the risk of interruption, and more generally, the risks inherent in any connection and transmission on the Internet, the lack of protection of certain data against possible misappropriation and the risk of contamination by any viruses circulating on the network.

As a result, VPG may not under any circumstances be held liable for any technical, hardware or software failure of any nature whatsoever that prevents or limits the possibility of participating in the Competition or that damages the Participant's system.

In addition, VPG shall not be held liable if, due to force majeure or an event beyond its control, the Competition or the Prize should be modified, shortened or cancelled. In all cases, VPG reserves the right to extend the Competition period and to postpone any announced date.

Article 10. Dispute and applicable law

The Competition is subject to French law and provisions of these terms and conditions shall be executed and interpreted in accordance with French law.

Any dispute that may arise in connection with their validity, interpretation or execution shall be submitted to the court of Aix-en-Provence, France.
